course, as well as other established digital marketing professionals.

Open to Wolverines and Spartans alike, this internship is ideal for bright and creative individuals with a passion for innovation and new digital trends. Students majoring in marketing, advertising, communications, public relations, or related fields are encouraged to apply, and will have the chance to receive college credit upon completion of the summer-long internship. Perks include access to high-speed internet, gourmet coffee, ice cream, and cupcakes.

Eco-Friendly Interns work downtown Ann Arbor during such events as the Ann Arbor Summer Festival, the Ann Arbor Art Fairs, and Sonic Lunch. They also will be key participants in the Second Annual Digital Bus Summer Tour, which brings the Ingenex staff to events all around southeast Michigan.

"Being an Eco-Friendly Intern has given me unique perspective into the world of digital marketing. I had the opportunity to put my knowledge into practice in a real world setting working on real clients," said Laura Ene, an Eco-Friendly intern and senior at MSU. "Now when looking for a job, I will be at an advantage compared to my peers thanks to the skills I have learned at Ingenex."

Send in your application today! The deadline is April 15, 2013. Just fill out the form on the digital marketing internship page, and direct any questions to jobs@ingenexdigital.com
