, AmeriSchools Academy, is pleased to announce the debut of its redesigned website featuring enhanced navigation with a more interactive platform.

AmeriSchools represent some of the best schools in Arizona and the new site includes a variety of resources including a full list of campuses, information on their curriculum and personal learning community, charter school FAQs and employment opportunities. In addition, the site highlights AmeriSchool's contribution to fostering quality charter school environments.

The staff of AmeriSchools strives to create and maintain safe and inviting learning communities that support students and their families. The goal is to inspire lifelong learning by students who develop into compassionate, effective, culturally sensitive and responsible world citizens.

The new site is the result of much collaboration between faculty and staff and was redesigned as a commitment to AmeriSchool's mission to assist children in achieving their best academic ability since the fall of 1996. Through personalized, non-graded instruction, AmeriSchools uses skill based assessments integrated through a core curriculum supported by acceleration and enrichment techniques.

AmeriSchool's intention was to create a website that is more visually appealing, easier to navigate for visitors and integrates informative and useful resources for users. As such, the site features links to information about each campus, programs, teachers and registration, as well as an updated media photo gallery stream for viewing.

Using an integrated curriculum, AmeriSchools aims to develop the connection between school subjects and their application to life. To that end, qualified staff provides support for students that extend into creating an understanding and association to build thinking and problem solving skills. Additionally, students are encouraged to discern the relevance of what they learn not only to themselves, but to their communities and the world.
