

Marwood Veneer Expands Into Higher Academic Institutions Looking to Capitalize on the Skateboarding a

Written by Business News

Wednesday, 17 December 2014 08:00

Marwood Veneer scales up to meet demand from academic institutions looking to offer, woodworking courses that include making your own skateboard. The 59-year-old company based in Jeffersonville-Indiana has seen a resurgence in interest regarding wood veneer for skateboard and snowboard builds in recent years.