

China Cord Blood Corporation Announces Resignation of Director

Written by Australian Business

HONG KONG, Sept. 29, 2013 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- China Cord Blood Corporation (NYSE: CO) ("CCBC" or the "Company"), China's leading provider of cord blood collection, laboratory testing, hematopoietic stem cell processing, and stem cell storage services, today announced that Mr. Jeremy Yee has resigned as an Independent Non-executive Director of the Company and member of the Compensation Committee, effective immediately.

The Company understands that, as the CEO of Cordlife Group Limited ("Cordlife"), Mr. Yee's resignation was driven by his need to fully concentrate on Cordlife's business development and overseas expansion. Upon the effectiveness of Mr. Yee's resignation, the Board of China Cord Blood Corporation will consist of seven directors, including four independent directors. The Company does not plan on filling Mr. Yee's board seat.

"On behalf of our Board, I would like to thank Mr. Yee for his contributions during his tenure on our Board, and we wish him continued success in his endeavors," commented Mr. Yuen Kam, Chairman of CCBC. "Cordlife has been and continues to be our important strategic partner. The two companies remain supportive of each other in jointly building a comprehensive Pan-Asia platform for cord blood banking services."
