

OAK CREEK, Wis., Oct. 23, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- Versatility is in high-demand as business hardware is more multi-functional than ever. With that, the average workforce is increasingly "on-the-go" and telecommuting is on the rise.

Video

Conferencing Supply

is at the forefront of this changing business paradigm, featuring a full assortment of quality desktop video conferencing platforms. The Konftel 55W conferencing device is the perfect compliment to these solutions, offering wireless HD audio, with Bluetooth and USB connectivity to PC's and mobile devices.

video conferencing

The Konftel 55W wireless conference phone enhances desktop video conferencing, providing a high-definition audio solution. Connect the Konftel 55W to a compatible device with the onboard Bluetooth or USB connectivity. Available accessories and switch boxes enable the Konftel 55W to directly connect to cell phones or VoIP phones. This affordable and portable conference device leverages video conferencing platforms as never before.

Operate the Konftel 55W with popular video conferencing solutions, such as the Polycom RealPresence desktop platform. With the Konftel 55W's built-in speakerphone, 360-degree microphone and option for expansion microphones, this conferencing device leverages a desktop platform for deployment in a small conference room. This Konftel 55W is also interoperable with the LifeSize Softphone desktop platform, Skype, Microsoft Lync, Cisco WebEx and numerous other video conferencing systems.

Video conferencing provides face-to-face interaction without the costs associated with traveling. However, if the audio quality is terrible, then your message isn't being heard. The Konftel 55W conferencing device features Konftel OmniSound HD audio. Still missed part of the conversation? Replay the sound later with the built-in SD card reader

Highly expandable and portable, the Konftel 55W conferencing device is deployable as a wireless or wired HD audio conference phone. Video Conferencing Supply features the equipment to ensure your business conferences are impressive now and well into the future.

About Video Conferencing Supply

Video Conferencing Supply is a conference equipment reseller featuring premier solutions from Konftel, Polycom and other trusted providers. We offer a range of products, from displays and whiteboards, to VoIP phones and video conferencing systems.

Media Contact: Chip Walters media@videoconferencingsupply.com

SOURCE Video Conferencing Supply

RELATED LINKS <http://www.videoconferencingsupply.com>