

IRVING, Texas, Sept. 27, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- Formed to be a steady fundraising resource for charities and nonprofits, Good Deeds Wireless will donate 50% of its ongoing profits directly to its charity partners. The company will use its resources to educate, promote and advertise these great causes.

The company's launch event is scheduled for September 30, 2013 at 1625 Chestnut Street, Rittenhouse Square, Philadelphia
at 11:00 am
. Media is invited to attend.

The event will be hosted by Big Brothers Big Sisters of South East Pennsylvania. In attendance will be BBBS South East Pennsylvania CEO, Marcus Allen, the National Society of Hispanic MBAs, CEO, Manny Gonzalez, Founder and Executive Director of the Family Support Foundation for Mental Illness, Jonathan Foxman, and Founder of Good Deeds Wireless, Margaret McKoin. Other invited special guests and local celebrities will participate in the launch event.

Supporting worthy nonprofits with a new funding resource is the company's main mission; Good Deeds Wireless' committed donation of 50% of its ongoing profits will never lessen. Currently, the wireless company supports three national organizations – Big Brothers Big Sisters, the National Society of Hispanic MBAs Foundation for college scholarships, and the Family Support Foundation for Mental Illness, which supports families coping with the challenges of mental illness, including returning military service men and women and their families.
