

MANCHESTER, N.H., Oct. 1, 2013 /PRNewswire-iReach/ -- nGage Events, the leader in specialized hosted model events and Tabor Communications Inc (TCI), a leading international media, advertising, and communications company and the publishers of HPCwire, Datanami, Enterprise Tech, Digital Manufacturing Report and HPCwire Japan announced today that they have entered into a media partnership agreement for nGage Events' DataCenter Insights Summit, taking place at the Hotel Del Coronado, San Diego, November 3 – 5, 2013.

DataCenter Insights (DCI) is a premier, enterprise-focused summit for companies serious about transforming their IT to meet today and tomorrow's data center challenges. Designed for senior IT and business executives interested in the current trends and emerging technologies that are influencing data center growth and developing strategies leveraging these technologies to sustain and grow their business. The main theme covered is "Transformation: Developing & Sustaining Change in the Data Center".

"We recognize the importance of partnering with the market leader in online intelligence covering advanced computing technologies," said Phil McKay, president of nGage Events. "Tabor Communications reaches a highly engaged global audience familiar with issues impacting the sustainability of enterprise-class data centers; both today and tomorrow. The publications and the audiences they reach are a natural fit for us."

"We are pleased to be forging a media partnership with nGage for DataCenter Insights," said Tom Tabor

, CEO of Tabor Communications Inc. "the DCI conference model gives business and IT professionals opportunities to build relationships, learn about new technologies and market trends, and gain insight into best practices used by other senior IT and business executives to achieve business growth and success. The programs and speakers DCI is presenting are so robust and valuable; I'm actually planning on attending the summit myself."

DCI is a world-class, invitation-only, three-day networking and business information exchange for select senior-level guests representing data center organizations. DCI's unique format provides sponsors with boardroom meetings, case studies, and 1:1 meetings with executives who are intimately involved with data center strategy, product/service decisions, purchasing authority, and purchasing intent across major industry verticals. In addition to Tabor Communications, other DCI media partners include the Storage Network Industry Association (SNIA), Data Center Journal and the Data Center Post.
