

Last Minute Holiday Gifts From Celebrities For Under $5

Written by Australian Business

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 23, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- For all of those last minute holiday shoppers on a budget that don't have time to fight the mall crowds, CelebCalls.com, is here to help! The innovative new website and mobile app enables consumers to send personalized phone calls from celebrities to their family and friends all for under $5! The whole process from start to finish takes less than five minutes to complete.

At CelebCalls.com, users can create Holiday phone calls from top celebrities personalized with the recipient's name, where they're from, favorite food, hobbies, relationships, and more, with over 1 million potential combinations. The call is sent from your phone number, so you know the recipient will answer. When they say hello, instead of you, they'll get a holiday greeting from the celebrity of your choice. CelebCalls features today's most popular actors, musicians, athletes, sports coaches and more! In addition to the phone call option, users can customize their very own voicemail message with their favorite celebrity's voice.

"With holiday shopping becoming one of the most stressful times of the year, we are thrilled to provide those who have been avoiding the packed mall parking lots and long checkout lines with an easily purchased, unique, and customizable last minute gift option," Said Chris Webb, CEO of CelebCalls. "A call from CelebCalls is also the perfect gift for those awkward situations when you've neglected to buy a gift for someone who surprises you with a Christmas gift. The entire process of sending a celebcall can be completed in five minutes or less, and you can create and send the call on the go from your smart phone! CelebCalls.com is completely mobile friendly and is also available on iTunes and the Google Play store."

To send your holiday celebrity phone call today, simply visit celebcalls.com or download the mobile app and select the celebrity or sports figure you desire. Then, select the type of message you wish to send, and complete the customizable options. All calls can be delivered either by phone or email and can be scheduled to be delivered at the perfect time.
