

VIDEO: Michelle Grattan on Turnbull and the 'sensible centre'

Written by Michelle Grattan, Professorial Fellow, University of Canberra

AAP/Lukas Coch

The University of Canberra's deputy vice-chancellor and vice-president (academic), Nicholas Klomp, and Michelle Grattan discuss the week in politics – including how Malcolm Turnbull went on his overseas trips and his London speech about Liberal Party founder Robert Menzies being in the sensible centre, Newspoll showing a rise in the One Nation vote to 11%, the government being stuck on the Finkel report's proposed clean energy target, and Craig Kelly's comments.

The authors do not work for, consult, own shares in or receive funding from any company or organization that would benefit from this article, and have disclosed no relevant affiliations beyond the academic appointment above.

Authors: Michelle Grattan, Professorial Fellow, University of Canberra

Read more <http://theconversation.com/video-michelle-grattan-on-turnbull-and-the-sensible-centre-81026>