

VIDEO: Michelle Grattan on Labor's energy plan, and the government's anti-terrorism measures

Written by Michelle Grattan, Professorial Fellow, University of Canberra

Michelle Grattan speaks with University of Canberra Vice-Chancellor Deep Saini about the week in Australian politics. They discuss Labor unveiling its energy plan, Minister for Women Kelly O'Dwyer's announcement of the women's economic statement, the government's anti-terrorism measures, and what to expect in Parliament's final sitting fortnight of the year.

Michelle Grattan does not work for, consult, own shares in or receive funding from any company or organisation that would benefit from this article, and has disclosed no relevant affiliations beyond their academic appointment.
