

VIDEO: Michelle Grattan on Morrison's first political plays of 2019

Written by Michelle Grattan, Professorial Fellow, University of Canberra

University of Canberra Vice-Chancellor Deep Saini speaks with Michelle Grattan about the week in Australian politics. They discuss Scott Morrison's decision to install former Labor president Warren Mundine as the candidate for the ultra-marginal NSW seat of Gilmore, Kelly O'Dwyer's announcement that she would not be contesting the next election, and the government's Australia Day plan to force councils to conduct citizenship ceremonies on January 26 or have their right to do so at all revoked.

Michelle Grattan does not work for, consult, own shares in or receive funding from any company or organization that would benefit from this article, and has disclosed no relevant affiliations beyond their academic appointment.
