

Introfloss Makes Flossing Elegant

Written by Australian Business

HOPPERS CROSSING, AUSTRALIA, September 23, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Ottum Company recently released its revolutionary flossing device, Introfloss. Introfloss was designed to make flossing easier and more sanitary; however, aesthetics are also important. For the first time, flossing can now be elegant and Introfloss will be the perfect addition to your cosmetic and dental routine.

"Let's face it, we do not always look particularly attractive when we are flossing our teeth," says Grofo Ottum. "People are often embarrassed if their partner or family members see them flossing so, when I was designing Introfloss, I gave considerable thought to how I could make flossing not just more comfortable but also more attractive. It took a long time but I eventually created this timeless design with a neat, elegant look and feel."

Introfloss is a revolutionary oral healthcare tool, offering an easier and more sanitary option for maintaining oral hygiene; additionally, with the Introfloss Dental Flosser you can actually look attractive while flossing.

"Introfloss will revolutionize flossing," says Ottum. "Thanks to the elegance of the Introfloss system, flossing is now more hygienic than ever - the floss doesn't even touch your hand except when you are reloading. Even better, with Introfloss, you won't need to close the bathroom door whenever you floss your teeth - you won't mind anyone seeing you!"

We all know that flossing is vital for healthy, beautiful teeth and gums. However, it can be awkward, uncomfortable and look unattractive. Not anymore! Introfloss' elegant design means you can look attractive while maintaining oral hygiene. And that beautiful, healthy smile will look pretty attractive also!

To get your own Introfloss Dental Flosser today or for more information, please visit www.introfloss.com