

One of the most popular WordPress forms plugin used by millions worldwide could be putting unsuspecting freelancers and small business owners at risk for identity theft. Today ApproveMe announces a solution that patches this security vulnerability.