

Dr. DeFilippis believes our society has reached an all-time low and that it is time for Christians to take the lead in reversing our moral decline. If we fail, he believes "our children will inherit a depraved, soulless society