

Intellinet Recognized by Consulting Magazine as 'Best Small Firm to Work For'

Written by Australian Business

ATLANTA, GA, September 09, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Intellinet, a management consulting and Microsoft-centric technology services firm, today announced it has been recognized as number 14 on Consulting Magazine's annual "Best Small Firms to Work For" list.

To be named a Best Firm, extensive employee surveys were conducted and firms were ranked in six categories measuring employee satisfaction - client engagement, culture, leadership, career development, work/life balance, and compensation & benefits.

"Being named one of the nation's 'Best Small Firms to Work For' is a great honor for our firm and validates our vision of being a 'profitable, growing company that delights customers and provides an excellent employment experience' said Mark Seeley, president and senior partner of Intellinet.

On the annual survey, Intellinet ranked highest in the categories of Leadership and Work/Life Balance.

"Our firm was built upon a set of core values that revolve around people. We understand the opportunities and challenges of a career in consulting therefore we put an incredible amount of focus and effort on ensuring our employees maintain a strong work/life balance" Seeley added. "Our leadership team fosters the traits of servant leadership, innovation, and our motto of 'Promises Kept'."

To read Consulting Magazine's interview with Intellinet, visit <http://www.consultingmag.com>.

This has been a year of recognition for Intellinet. It was recently named Microsoft's Southeast Partner of the Year and received Microsoft's Southeast Customer Satisfaction Excellence award, both for the second consecutive year. In addition, Redmond Channel Partner (RCP) Magazine and Revenue Rocket recognized Intellinet with the RCP/Rocket Award recognizing excellence in growth.

About Intellinet Corporation Intellinet is a management consulting and award-winning Microsoft-centric technology services firm dedicated to helping executives succeed by providing strategy, process, and business technology services with measureable bottom-line results. As trusted advisors, Intellinet applies business acumen and technology best practices to help clients reduce cost, enable revenue growth, and increase business productivity. As a premier Microsoft gold partner, Intellinet provides exceptional technology delivery in the areas of portals & collaboration, business intelligence, application development, data management, systems management, and infrastructure. Since 1993, Intellinet has been driven by one simple idea: that "Promises Kept" are the most powerful, competitive advantage possible. By living out our core values, we deliver business value to our clients. For more information, visit us at <http://www.intellinet.com>.

Intellinet Recognized by Consulting Magazine as 'Best Small Firm to Work For'

Written by Australian Business