

DALLAS, TX, September 12, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- High-profile attorney Barry Sorrels of Dallas' Sorrels, Udashen & Anton once again has earned a spot on the annual Texas Super Lawyers list of the state's top attorneys based on his work defending clients in criminal matters and white-collar cases. The 2013 edition marks Mr. Sorrels' 11th consecutive selection to the prestigious listing.

A veteran of more than 300 state and federal trials throughout Texas and the southwest, Mr. Sorrels frequently is involved in high-profile, headline-grabbing cases for prominent business executives, public figures, sports personalities and law enforcement officers.

The Texas Super Lawyers list is designed to objectively identify the state's top attorneys. Selections are based on peer nominations solicited from more than 70,000 lawyers across the state, in addition to a detailed evaluation by a blue-ribbon panel of attorneys and additional research conducted by the publication's editors. The 2013 list is published in the October editions of Texas Monthly and Texas Super Lawyers magazines, and is available online at <http://www.superlawyers.com>.

A graduate of Columbia University and Southern Methodist University's Dedman School of Law, Mr. Sorrels is Board Certified in Criminal Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization. He has earned a national reputation as an expert legal analyst for CNN, MSNBC, Fox News and others, and is a frequent lecturer on topics such as cross-examinations, closing arguments, and media relations in high-profile cases.

In addition to Mr. Sorrels, firm attorneys Robert Udashen, Gary Udashen, Bruce Anton, and Kevin Ross also earned recognition in the 2013 edition of Texas Super Lawyers.
