

ST. GALLEN, SWITZERLAND, November 28, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- ForaCare Suisse AG is delighted to announce the appointment of Denis Huang as Director of Product Management. Denis comes to ForaCare Suisse AG with five years' experience in the semiconductor industry and a further nine and a half years' experience in the medical device field.

In his new position, Mr. Huang will be in charge of new product development, leading a team in product management for devices for monitoring blood glucose. He will also accept responsibility for developing and implementing an effective quality management system that will ensure the highest possible product quality and superior customer service.

"We are delighted to welcome Denis to join the ForaCare family, who brings significant expertise and a wealth of experience to our business," says Ty-Minh Tan, CEO of ForaCare Suisse AG. "He will be leading an established team of developers working on blood glucose monitors, supporting our continued growth and driving future improvements and success."

ForaCare Suisse AG is a well-established supplier of innovative healthcare products, distributing to the international healthcare market. The company's expertise is in providing reliable diabetes healthcare monitoring solutions. It is responsible for all production steps, from research and design, through engineering and manufacturing, to testing and delivering.

ForaCare's Commitment to the Highest Measurement Standards:

ForaCare monitoring devices are validated as highly accurate in the industry and are certified by Dekra for compliance to the new ISO 15197:2013 accuracy requirements.

ForaCare devices have completed third party validations:- FORA Diamond strips (for the Diamond series) are clinically validated in Czech and Switzerland and proven to meet the +/- 15% required by the new ISO 15197:2013. - FORA Comfort Pro GD40 (with 5-electrode Technology) is clinically validated in Switzerland and proven to meet the +/- 15% required by the new ISO 15197:2013.

ForaCare provides FDA cleared and CE marked innovative health monitoring devices that provide simple connection to the FORA system. For more information, please visit www.foraca

re.ch

As a market leader in full care, Foracare Suisse AG provides comprehensive solutions to the advancement of diabetes management through affordable Telemedicine solutions. By employing innovative technologies and services, we aim to expand the scope of total health management platforms and improve the quality of self-care for diabetes and hypertension patients. About Foracare Suisse AG: www.foracare.ch