

NAB Show Super Session Examines Net Neutrality, Impact on Internet

Written by Australian Business

Public policy surrounding the issue of net neutrality has sparked fierce debate about the future of the Internet. NAB Show will address this topic in an highly-anticipated Super Session titled "World Without Rules: Is This the End of the Open Internet?," Tuesday, April 8 in Las Vegas. Featuring top opinion leaders and experts on the issue of net neutrality, the panel will address how proposed regulations governing access to the Internet will affect content providers, ISPs and content creators.
