

ATLANTA, GA, May 20, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Leadership Strategies is pleased to offer a wide variety of facilitation training classes available to the public throughout the year. Each of these classes can offer distinct benefits to you as a facilitator and to any organization you work with.

The company's flagship facilitation training course is The Effective Facilitator, which is available as a four-day class, a three-day accelerated class and as an iPad class. This course teaches you the 10 Principles of Facilitation and then guides you through six exercises that will give you the practical experience you need to put these techniques to use in the real world. You will also receive a recording of your facilitation session to review.

From there, you can learn new facilitation techniques in Advanced Facilitation Skills or pursue your Certified Master Facilitator (CMF) certification with Leadership Strategies' facilitator certification prep course.

Even if you are not pursuing a career in facilitation, Leadership Strategies has several publicly offered courses that can help you to advance your career and skills.

"Facilitating Virtual Meetings is a live, virtual course that helps individuals who frequently facilitate meetings with remote parties that may require conflict resolution or agreeing upon a consensus," says Kris Casariego, Director of Marketing of Leadership Strategies. "Facilitation Skills for Trainers is geared more towards trainers and instructors, and it teaches you how to engage your audience while making training principles unforgettable."

These and other courses are available to members of the public through Leadership Strategies throughout the year. To learn more about the public facilitation classes offered or to find a course session in a location near you, please visit <http://www.leadstrat.com>.
