

Jared S. Vale Helps Clients Recover Millions in Unclaimed Funds and Missing Money

Written by Australian Business

NEW YORK, NY, July 17, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Jared S. Vale, President of ValeU Group, Inc. has been recognized for his dedication, leadership and excellence in business development.

Mr. Vale has 18 years of professional consulting experience with corporate America, resulting in hundreds of millions of dollars in savings and refunds. Over the years he has established himself as an expert in unemployment compensation management. Four years ago, Mr. Vale began a new endeavor based on an unmet need that he identified, unclaimed funds recovery. Most corporations focus on the escheatment or reporting of funds, a compliance responsibility. Corporations lack the effort, focus, manpower and capability to recover their unclaimed funds effectively.

ValeU Group understands the bureaucratic complexity of recovering these funds from governmental agencies. Locating unclaimed funds without the right tools can be an expensive and time-consuming process. At ValeU Group, a highly skilled team of professionals combine their extensive knowledge, experience, deep industry relationships and proprietary software with a cost-effective service model to significantly expedite the time frame in which funds are recovered. ValeU Group's expertise includes, but is not limited to: tracking corporate lineage, mergers and acquisitions, name changes and reorganizations. ValeU Group services all industries in all states. They have developed a niche service for banks, holding companies, staffing firms, and construction companies, as well as entities with multiple subsidiaries in multiple states. Their services remove a non-core competency from their client's employees while significantly expediting and maximizing refunds recovered.

ValeU Group has successfully helped many companies, large and small, throughout North America collect money that they didn't know existed. Over the past six months, ValeU Group Inc. has recovered more than $6 million for their clients. They are currently experiencing tremendous growth. To accommodate the company's growth, Mr. Vale has hired several new employees and opened a second office at 470 Lakeville Road in New Hyde Park, NY. Adding to this growth is a recent partnership with Barnett Associates, Inc. to provide unclaimed fund recovery services for their clients. Barnett Associates Inc. provides unemployment cost management and verification of income services to Fortune 500 companies.

Mr. Vale attributes his success to embracing unconventional thinking. Mr. Vale received a BBA in Banking and Finance from Hofstra University in 1992. From 2001 until 2013, he has received the "Citation of Merit" from the American Payroll Association in recognition of his achievements and volunteering of his time to educate payroll professionals nationwide. ValeU Group also volunteers and contributes funds to many nonprofit organizations. Mr. Vale was recently elected to the board of the Inner City Handball Association (ICHA) whose mission is to teach and promote the game of handball to juniors and kids in NYC and the surrounding areas.
