

LAS VEGAS, NV, July 25, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- World-renowned speaker, author, business coach and peak performance strategist Tony Robbins announces his only U.S. event this year dedicated to helping business leaders master their skills. Business Mastery will take place at The Cosmopolitan in Las Vegas from August 13-17, 2014. The five-day program is one of the most comprehensive and exclusive business programs on the planet, created by Tony Robbins who has been rated one of the top six business consultants in the world by American Express. After 35 years of working with more than four million people from 100 countries, coaching three of the last five U.S. presidents, as well as consulting some of the most successful people in the world, Tony Robbins has designed a program that can help take businesses to the next level.

Leading up to the August event, Business Mastery representatives are offering complimentary one-hour consultations with business leaders at companies large and small throughout the U.S. Through the one-hour consultation, Business Mastery representatives will educate company leaders on Robbins' Seven Forces of Business Mastery. The forces teach business leaders to increase sales and profitability by creating effective business maps, being continuously innovative, and adding value through world-class marketing, among others.

Leah Hoppes, a Business Mastery program graduate and entrepreneur with a successful strategic marketing consultation company, shares her experience: "I had always admired people who owned their own businesses, but with no previous entrepreneurial experience, I didn't know where to start in creating my own company. I didn't have the confidence to know that entrepreneurship was something I could achieve myself. I lost my corporate job about a year ago and had no income, no one to rely on - I needed to make a change. Just six months after attending Business Mastery, I've found success with my own business and I'm proud to have clients from all over the U.S. in a variety of industries. I am financially independent and my company is constantly growing. I confidently call myself an entrepreneur - a title I wasn't positive I could hold a year ago."

To schedule a complimentary one-hour Business Mastery consultation, call (866) 696-0679 or sign up online before reservations reach capacity.
