

HR Secrets to Managing Your Employees

Written by Australian Business

---

NEW YORK, NY, September 25, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Today more and more employees work remotely and from different geographical locations. In order for HR to manage employees and ensure effective performance, it has been challenging in the past to find the best tools to help them do so. One way to solve this problem is by offering a cloud based software that allows employees to track their vacation entitlements and timesheets from anywhere, so that HR doesn't waste valuable time and can focus on other tasks at hand.

There are a few different HR software tools out there that can help. CommonOffice.com offers one of the most customizable and affordable solutions available. By tracking your absentees, you can eliminate any discrepancies in employee payroll and sick days, which produces a more productive workflow. Also with time off request forms, employers can easily see sick days and vacation time in a very transparent environment. Where, in the past abuse of sick days has cost the company thousands of dollars, in the long run, this software will help save time and money. HR now has the capacity to organize manpower and it takes the complexity out of the work force.

Launched in early 2000, CommonOffice takes pride in being one of the first to push the boundaries in the industry to offer innovative, cloud based software. Some of the many benefits include:

- Mobile friendly solutions-
- Custom support-
- Continuous communication-
- Great customer service

CommonOffice will continue to work on meeting HR needs and is working on several future ventures, including introducing a new HRIS tool, which will assist HR in organizing and tracking employees' data records more seamlessly.

About CommonOffice Systems, Inc.

CommonOffice.Com specializes in developing user-friendly, corporate grade web applications with a 13-years track record of reliability in Human Resources Software. CommonOffice.com offers powerful cloud based team ware applications for Employee Vacation Tracking, Employee Portal, HR Transactions, attendance tracking, employee training tracking, resource reservation, expense reports, Timesheet software and recruitment software. CommonOffice.com applications are created specifically for small to mid-sized businesses. Our HRMS (Human Resource Management System) is a secure, cost-effective, and scalable web-based solution.

HR Secrets to Managing Your Employees

Written by Australian Business

---

www.CommonOffice.com