

Pacific Coast Information Systems Announces New Partnership to Deliver MaaS360

Written by Australian Business

VANCOUVER, BC, October 09, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Pacific Coast Information Systems Ltd. (PCIS) announced today that it has entered a partnership with MaaS360 by Fiberlink, an IBM company, recognized as a leader in enterprise mobility management solutions.

This partnership further solidifies PCIS' 20-year relationship with IBM while aligning with PCIS' increased focus on mobile strategy and enterprise mobility. PCIS is now equipped to offer a full slate of MaaS360 cloud mobility and mobile device management solutions.

"PCIS is thrilled to be working with an industry leader," states PCIS President & CEO Vaclav Vincalek. "Our customers will benefit from the combination of the MaaS360 solutions suite together with our mobile strategy expertise as a comprehensive approach to addressing their mobility needs."

In addition to enterprise mobility, PCIS provides a wide range of solutions for improving productivity, communications, and operations that drive business innovation and growth. Service areas include strategic consulting, application development, cloud, analytics, big data, messaging, and security.

About Pacific Coast Information Systems

Pacific Coast Information Systems (PCIS) is an IT consulting firm committed to aligning technology strategy with business goals to optimize organizational performance and maximum value. Since 1995, PCIS has provided services to all industries within the private and public sector, including solutions centered on systems integration, optimization, and transformation. For more information about PCIS, please visit www.pcis.com.

About MaaS360 by Fiberlink, an IBM company

MaaS360 by Fiberlink, an IBM company, is the trusted enterprise mobility management solution to thousands of customers worldwide -- from Fortune 500 companies to small businesses. We make working in a mobile world simple and safe by delivering comprehensive mobile security and management for applications, content, email, and devices. Instantly accessible from the web, MaaS360 is easy to use and maintain and provides the flexibility organizations need to fully embrace mobility in every aspect of their business. Backed by the most responsive support in the industry, we put our customers first by providing them with the best user experience for IT and employees. To learn more go to www.maas360.com .

Pacific Coast Information Systems Announces New Partnership to Deliver MaaS360

Written by Australian Business