

Written by Business News

---

The complaint alleges that Defendant required them to work over 40 hours per week, but did not pay them an overtime premium for any of their overtime hours, in violation of the Fair Labor Standards Act