

NEW YORK, Sept. 11, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- Attorney Advertising -- Bronstein, Gewirtz & Grossman, LLC is investigating potential claims on behalf of purchasers of the securities of OvaScience, Inc. ("OvaScience" or the "Company") (NasdaqGM: OVAS). The investigation focuses on whether the Company and its executives complied with federal securities laws.

On September 11, 2013, share of OvaScience fell $3.12 during intraday trading to trade at $11.15 after the company said Tuesday after markets closed that the FDA is questioning the status of its potential fertility treatment, Augment. The FDA was questioning Augment's status as a lower-risk form of a human cellular and tissue-based product. The FDA told the company to file an investigational new drug application for the product, which would require rounds of clinical testing and could delay the treatment from reaching the U.S. market.
