

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- While the summer fire season may be drawing to a close, Fire Protection Group, Inc. is here to tell you that, unfortunately, ring all year long. For homes, offices, and manufacturing facilities, the causes of fires can range from such non-meteorological phenomena as electrical problems to simple carelessness;

fire alarms

moreover,

California's

climate remains relatively dry and warm year round. Led by general manager and chief engineer

George Saadian

, Fire Protection Group, Inc. is a company devoted to helping owners and managers of business and residential properties become both legally compliant and fire safe all year long. Whether it's a matter of installing the right kind of fire sprinklers

or determining what, if any, fire escape equipment needs to be installed in a given building or office, Fire Protection Group, Inc. is known as the leading resource for the full range of fire safety and prevention services and products.

From consulting on needed changes to a given property to actually installing fire sprinklers, alarm systems, FPG, Inc. is a company that provides complete, turnkey assistance for all things fire safety. George Saadian is among the most respected names in fire protection and he is joined by some of the best known names in Southern California fire protection. With more than 32 years of experience as a firefighter behind him, retired

Los Angeles

Fire Department (LAFD) Chief

Al Hernandez

led the Fire Prevention Bureau of the LAFD before joining Fire Protection Group, Inc. Captain Bob Holloway is another longtime LAFD veteran who was formerly in charge of construction services at the department. The level of expertise of these three highly respected fire safety professionals is an invaluable resource to FPG, Inc. clients.

With the FPG, Inc. team on your side, you and your company will be in an outstanding position to deal with the many possible causes of fires that threaten 365 days a year – not only during the driest, hottest months. Fire is very often a matter of life and death, not only for individuals, but also for businesses, as the financial devastation wrought by a fire can be truly devastating.

That's why businesses and individuals need to make sure they are as protected as possible. Providing a vast storehouse of fire protection knowledge as well as manufacturing and installation of anti-fire products all under the same roof, Fire Protection Group, Inc. offers an array of services that clients agree is absolutely invaluable and incredibly affordable and cost-efficient, 365 days a year.

For more information about Fire Protection Group, Inc.'s see the company's web site at www.firesprinkler.com or call them at 888-251-3488. Free consultations are available for interested companies and individuals.

PR submitted by www.Cyberset.com

SOURCE Fire Protection Group, Inc.

RELATED LINKS <http://www.firesprinkler.com>