

Important:

* Horizons Exchange Traded Funds Series is an umbrella fund with a series of different sub-funds (the "Sub-Funds"), which are exchange-traded funds that seek investment results that, before the deduction of fees and expenses, closely correspond to the performance of their respective underlying indices.

* Certain Funds are subject to concentration risk as a result of tracking the performance of a single country, single geographical region (Asia) or single sector. They are likely to be more volatile than a broad-based fund, such as a global equity fund, as they are more susceptible to fluctuations in value of the underlying indices resulting from adverse conditions in that single country, region or sector.

* An investment in the units of the Funds may directly or indirectly involve exchange-rate risk.

* The units of the Funds may trade at a substantial premium or discount to their net asset value.

* Due to the fees and expenses of the Funds, liquidity of the market, foreign-exchange costs and changes to the regulatory policies, the returns of the Funds may deviate from that of their respective underlying indices.

* Investment involves risks. Investors may lose part or all of their investment. Investors should not base their investment decisions on this document alone. Before making any investment decision, prospective investors should read the Funds' offering documents (available on www.HorizonsETFs.com.hk) carefully for further details, including the product features and risk factors, and should consider seeking independent professional advice.

Funds Series

("Horizons ETFs

Series") will reduce fees of its Horizons KOSPI 200 ETF (Stock Code: 2835.HK) ("KOSPI 200 ETF")

by over 85% with immediate effect, a move driven by the success of the low-cost fee structure that was first offered to the Hong Kong market through its two new ETFs launched in June.

The management fee of the KOSPI 200 ETF will be lowered from "up to 0.35% per annum" to "up to 0.05% per annum", and the total expense ratio ("TER") will be reduced accordingly from an estimated 0.6% per annum to 0.29% per annum. The KOSPI 200 ETF will offer the lowest fees amongst Korean index ETFs in Hong Kong that have management fees and TERs averaging 0.40% and 0.58% respectively¹. Its TER will now become the fourth lowest amongst all Equity ETFs listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange².

said Ms. Laura LUI, Head of ETF at Mirae Asset Global Investments \(Hong Kong\) Limited ("Mirae Asset HK"). Mirae Asset HK is the Manager of the Horizons ETFs Series.

The KOSPI 200 Index, an index based on 200 blue chips listed in South Korea, is widely used as a benchmark index for various index funds and equity-linked securities. The KOSPI 200 Index is also one of the most diversified indices among major markets in the Asia Pacific ex-Japan region. Korea is ranked number one in terms of year-to-date annual net inflows of global equities into emerging Asia and number two for all of Asia³.

"Fund flows to North Asia have increased dramatically over recent months. The KOSPI 200 ETF, which has received approval from Hong Kong's Mandatory Provident Fund Schemes Authority (MPFA), provides investors with transparent and efficient access to one of the most dynamic markets in Asia through one of the most liquid, established and widely-recognized in South Korea," Ms. LUI noted.

On 17 June 2013, the Horizons ETFs Series launched the Horizons MSCI China ETF (Stock Code: 3040.HK) and Horizons Hang Seng High Dividend Yield ETF (Stock Code: 3110.HK) with the lowest fees amongst other similar ETFs in Hong Kong and around the world⁴.

Mr. Jung Ho RHEE, Chief Executive Officer of Mirae Asset HK, added, "We are committed to providing cost effective investment solutions that benefit investors in Hong Kong and around the
