

TOKYO, JAPAN-- Media OutReach --February 6, 2014--The web service of bulletin board Localmart, which is now popular all over the world, is now open to the Japanese who are looking for anything they are eager to get -- the job, consultation of the doctor, car, bicycle or any other thing they need. The long and non-productive searches over the internet are in the past now, as long as Localmart was initially created to ease the life of modern person in terms of sale, purchase and other events and needs.

The service itself consists of number of categories where all the notices and ads are classified. The main page of the website offers you to choose the category of the classified ad of any product or service you need, and thus you will not have to flip numerous pages searching for the right thing. You may simply choose the category you are interested in and secure a deal for you. If you are starting any type of business or try to breathe new life into the business you already have, you may post your ad ( <http://localmart.jp/add> ) on the Localmart website and wait for the purchaser or client right away. The advertisements that are posted on Localmart can be seen in all the biggest cities of Japan, like Tokyo, Kyoto, Osaka, Kanagawa, Aichi, Fukuoka, Chiba, Kumamoto and lots of others, thus helping users to support business and find ads in any part of the country.

After clients register on the Localmart website, they get the access to the service of adding free classified advertisements in one of the numerous categories of the website, starting from job advertisements and real estate notices. Thanks to the broad database that is kept up-to-date for the convenience of the clients all the notices are available for those who are searching. Though the Localmart Japan is still a young service, more and more people every day use it for their needs.
