

EPSRC invests in UK/China research partnerships for sustainable materials for infrastructures

Written by Business News

Six new research projects, to improve the sustainability of infrastructure development in the UK and China, are to receive over £3 million in funding from the Engineering and Physical Sciences Research Council (EPSRC). The funding follows on from a visit to the UK earlier this year by NSFC President Yang Wei. The projects will involve academics from nine UK universities which will partner with nine leading institutions in China.
