

Bamboo bike recharges mobile devices and external batteries by peddling

Written by Business News

Bambootec consortium from Yucatán, state in the south of Mexico, designed a bamboo bicycle that transforms the kinetic energy generated by pedaling into a source of electricity that has the ability to simultaneously recharge mobile devices, smartphone's external battery and a navigation dashboard located on the handlebars which measures the distance and time, and also has bluetooth connection.

Read more <http://www.alphagalileo.org/ViewItem.aspx?ItemId=148518&CultureCode=en>