

How thoughts and behaviour affect mood

Written by Business News

The mood swings of people with bipolar disorder are influenced by their thoughts according to researchers. A study by Lancaster University showed that how people interpret everyday experience affects their behaviour and hence mood.

Read more <http://www.alphagalileo.org/ViewItem.aspx?ItemId=148732&CultureCode=en>