

Queen's University Belfast leads pioneering research into cyber security

Written by Business News

A major, new initiative to explore the growing area of cyber security and to examine the knock-on effects on society – legal, ethical and cultural – is to be established at Queen's University Belfast.

Read more <http://www.alphagalileo.org/ViewItem.aspx?ItemId=149002&CultureCode=en>