AKRON, N.Y., Dec. 27, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- WoodMaxx Power Equipment now offers hydraulic auto-feed wood chippers to simplify landscaping and other outdoor work. WoodMaxx wood chippers for sale are among the most innovative products in the field and offer self-feeding designs that are versatile enough to be used privately or commercially. Dual in-feed rollers grab onto materials and easily pull them through the chipper shredder while maintaining even, constant pressure for perfect chipping results every time.

Research and development is ongoing so that WoodMaxx can continue to ensure their customers' complete satisfaction with every product they use. WoodMaxx offers an extensive line of outdoor equipment, including their renowned snow blower attachment, backhoe attachment, wood chipper attachment, flail mower, rotary tiller and parts and accessories. The in-feed rollers use two hydraulic motors, which are powered by a self-contained hydraulic pump and tank. The rollers are designed with high-carbon steel chisel teeth that are properly spaced to reduce the risk of clogs and impactions. Rollers are large and sturdy to pull through even large branches without jamming but are just as able to easily accommodate smaller materials and prevent them from slipping through without processing.

A8 tool steel is used to craft rugged, durable knives that are designed to stand up to daily use. Heavy-formed Q-235 structural steel plate forms the base of the chipper, and a 2-inch shaft strengthens and supports the flywheel. Flywheels are supported by one pillow block and two flange bearings and cantilevered beyond the bearings for a truly unique design. Chippers can rotate 360 degrees and feature convenient two-fingered operation for easier-than-ever handling, and the discharge chute can be swiveled and positioned for the most appropriate output whether onto the ground or into the back of a truck or other vehicle.

Every WoodMaxx chipper is made using innovative features and committed craftsmanship.
