

WASHINGTON--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Solgenia, a Microsoft Gold ISV Partner, has officially launched its latest solution offering Fax over IP (FoIP) with Unified Communications (UC)

, at the 2014 Microsoft Worldwide Partner Conference WPC in Washington DC. The new Weblive Facsys solution features tightly integrated Fax and Unified Communications capabilities, and offers higher ROI, feature set and value for customers.

Weblive Facsys is Solgenia's latest generation of FoIP with UC solution utilizing Solgenia's proprietary Enterprise Fax and Unified Communications technologies. Weblive Facsys combines the Weblive and Facsys solutions and offers them on a single platform and natively supports SIP Fax protocols. Included is a presence client that enables Enterprise Collaboration, Desktop Faxing, Web Meeting, Instant Presence and IP Telephony.

Solgenia's Founder & CEO Ermanno Bonifazi commented, "The fax market is a mature marketplace and our fax solution has done tremendously well over the last twenty years. Our vision however is to create solutions that are disruptive and yet provide unique features such as Mobility, Cloud, and Social. Weblive is the best SIP, H264 and Jabber compliant Unified Communication platform, and now with the inclusion of Weblive Facsys as full FoIP and SIP fax server we will help our customer to completely remove the costs for boards, lines and dedicated hardware for faxing, telephony and videoconferencing. All our customer will also benefit of taking their meeting, call, fax and instant message from their preferred mobile device thanks to our native mobile apps. We are proud to lead the industry with our forward thinking ideas and technologies." Over 3500 organizations worldwide, including multiple Fortune 500 companies, use the Facsys platform.

Solgenia representatives will be available during the Microsoft Worldwide Partner Conference WPC 2014 event to engage with customers and partners.
