( PRLEAP.COM ) For anyone in royal company and due to become new parents, the idea of a holiday abroad with a young baby can be daunting – but holidaying with Keycamp will make that all-important first trip one to remember for all the right reasons. And with seven nights in Brittany during September for just £230 per party, enjoying amazing value as well as a stress-free trip is as easy as 1, 2, 3!

One of Keycamp's Mini Fun Station parcs – specially selected for their unrivalled facilities for young families – La Pointe St Gilles , is a picturesque parc set within easy walking distance of a pine fringed beach and the lively resort of Bénodet.

With a great pool complex complete with heated indoor pool and free Learn to Swim lessons, water babies will be in their element. And if that wasn't enough, free Mini Fun Station activities are also on offer, catering for tots aged from six months to five years.

It's also an ideal spot for mum and dad to relax too – with a spa, Jacuzzi and impressive health and beauty centre. Meanwhile, sports such as tennis and swimming are on offer for those who like to keep active

Out and about, there's a small beach just next to the parc, plus the nearby resort of Bénodet, with its multitude of promenade cafes, crêperies and restaurants, is ideal for family visits.

A seven night break from 7 September 2013 staying in a two bedroom Villanova mobile home (sleeping up to two adults and four children) with decking at La Pointe St Gilles parc will cost from just £230 per party, accommodation only and including a saving of £91.

Ferry crossings and fly-drive packages are available at a supplement.

Keycamp's 20 Mini Fun Station parcs are situated in hand-picked destinations throughout France and Italy, allowing families to experience the holiday they want without worrying about keeping the little ones happy.
