

Rocket To The Riviera With Keycamp

Written by Australian Business

(PRLEAP.COM) Rocket to the French Riviera with Keycamp this August and not only can holidaymakers enjoy the spectacle of the Cannes Firework Festival (15 August), but with seven nights from just £1,355 for the whole family it's a cracker of a summer holiday deal.

Stay at Keycamp's La Baume in Fréjus and the excitement of the Festival is within easy reach, offering a sparkling end to a day out in Cannes where families can also relax on the picturesque La Croisette waterfront, not to mention living the high life amongst the city's many luxurious restaurants, cafes and shops.

Along with Cannes, glamorous St Tropez is well worth a visit, as is the French 'Grand Canyon' between the towns of Castellane and Moustiers-Sainte-Marie, which offers 21 km of spectacular views of the gorge along the river Verdon.

Closer to the parc and a number of stunning beaches on the doorstep includes the sandy stretch of Fréjus St Raphaël, while this busy French port town also provides the perfect spot to soak up some French culture and explore the traditional shops, cafes and restaurants. Meanwhile, the town's zoo, Parc Zoologique de Fréjus, provides the perfect day out, which the kids are sure to enjoy.

Back on-parc, an array of unrivalled facilities range from an indoor pool and outdoor lagoon to a four lane waterslide, Jacuzzi and steam room. Sporting amenities on offer include tennis courts, football pitches and archery, as well as cycle hire, so families can explore the stunning stretch of coastline on two wheels. Meanwhile, free kids' clubs for age four up to teenagers are a great opportunity to make friends and try out exciting new activities.

A seven night break from 11 August 2013 staying in a two bedroom, one bathroom Vista mobile home (sleeping up to two adults and four children) with air conditioning and decking at La Baume parc will cost from £1,355 per party, accommodation only and including a saving of £451.

Ferry crossings and fly-drive packages are available at a supplement.
