(PRLEAP.COM) Seven Nights In France For Just £280 Per Family

Make the most of the half term break this October and head to France with Keycamp. Not only is a great value getaway guaranteed, with seven nights from just £280 per party; there's also an action-packed agenda on offer to keep even the most energetic of families entertained.

Stay at Keycamp's La Croix du Vieux Pont parc at Berny Rivière, within easy reach of Paris, for the ideal combination of countryside and city.

Cosmopolitan Paris – packed full of family-friendly sights and sounds – is just a 90-minute drive away. Spend the day exploring its many museums, admire the views from the Eiffel Tower and Notre Dame Cathedral towers, or get hands-on with special exhibitions in The Centre Pompidou. Meanwhile, there may be an opportunity to catch a tango performance or two, as the popular Tango in the Suburbs festival gets underway.

Back on-parc and a lovely lakeside setting by the Compiègne Forest makes for the ideal spot for full-on family fun – with indoor water slides and an outdoor pool complex, and activities including canoeing, archery and tennis on offer; not to mention the Action Station tower, complete with zip wire, trapeze, abseiling and climbing.

The on-parc spa and beauty therapy centre provide a retreat for those looking to recharge their batteries. And with a gourmet restaurant and bar housed in an old stone farm building, and a pub complex, families can while away the evenings in the comfort of the parc itself.

For those looking to venture further afield, nearby Vic-sur-Aisne with its lovely landscaped parkland is ideal for fishing, canoeing and hiring pedalos; and not forgetting the excitement of Disneyland® Resort Paris – the perfect treat to end the holiday on a high.

A seven night break from 26 October 2013, staying in a two bedroom Villanova mobile home (sleeping up to two adults and four children) with decking, at La Croix du Vieux Pont parc will cost from just £280 per party, accommodation only.
