

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- With Labor Day an increasingly distant memory, the summer of 2013 is truly coming to an end – leaving L.A. residents expressing a sigh of relief. The end of tourist season means that L.A. residents can finally take full advantage of the city's many fantastic features, with many choosing to do so with the celebrated Los Angeles taxi company Beverly Hills Cab Co. For years, their seasoned team of professionals has provided neighborhoods from Wilshire Center to Brentwood and even Westchester with the car service Los Angeles residents trust first and foremost. This month, those lucky enough to live here can use the taxi in Los Angeles to explore their city during its unique early-fall period.

In chronically bustling Los Angeles, September and October are widely known as off-peak months, since this season it is one of the few times of the year that we don't have droves of tourists packing our streets, restaurants and other famous sites. That's why these months offer a much-appreciated reprieve from traffic congestion, and an opportunity for residents to travel quickly and comfortably in a Beverly Hills Cab Co. taxi. Their company of responsible and knowledgeable drivers is ideal for fun-loving groups seeking safe and cost-effective transportation to the many West Hollywood clubs and bars or the sites of downtown Hollywood without worrying about a designated driver.

At times, those looking to enjoy L.A.'s expansive nightlife can elect to utilize the city's metro rail and bus system to avoid getting behind the wheel, which can prove to be a troublesome option. As anyone who spends more than a few months in L.A. knows, in late summer and often far into the fall, L.A. often experiences its hottest days of the year, with temperatures frequently pushing upwards of triple digits. This temperature shift is one of many quirks that make Los Angeles so special, and it provides yet another excuse to utilize the famous Beverly Hills Cab Co. to enjoy the city. Instead of riding in a sweltering, cumbersome bus or subway train, an air-conditioned taxi from the distinguished company will keep your party safe and comfortable throughout the night.

The largely uncongested roads and low-key autumn sensibility also provide the perfect opportunity to run essential errands that may have been forgotten or put off due to the frequent activity of summer in our expansive urban metropolis. The Beverly Hills Cab Co. drivers offer exceptionally reliable services for trips to the grocery store, necessary medical visits or any other errand. The company's air-conditioned and clean taxis provide for the most stress-free, comfortable experience for those daily activities that eventually demand attention.

Whether you utilize their services for efficiently running errands or safe transportation for a night on the town, Beverly Hills Cab Co. is happy to provide L.A. residents with the premier taxi experience. To schedule your taxi, contact them today by dialing 1-800-273-6611, or online at www.beverlyhillscabco.com
