

Hayes and Jarvis Switch to Local Rate Telephone Numbers, Saving Customers Money

Written by Australian Business

LONDON, October 2, 2013 /PRNewswire/ --

The long haul specialist is now using local rate telephone numbers, meaning cheaper calls

Hayes and Jarvis is synonymous with flexible, customisable holidays to a wide range of long haul destinations offering an impressive choice of hotels and airlines, with departure dates throughout the year. Hayes and Jarvis recently launched its Winter Sun Holiday Sale with some impressive savings on holidays to destinations that boast warm weather throughout the winter months. Current savings of up to 40% mean customers are able to get outstanding value on holidays to

Dubai

Antigua

and the

Maldives

, amongst many others.

To help customers save even more, Hayes and Jarvis are switching from national rate to local phone numbers. Previously, a '0843' number was used, with a charge of 5p per minute, this has now changed to a local number: +44(0)1293-735282, meaning much lower local rates. Hayes and Jarvis understand that enquiries and bookings over the phone can take time, especially since Hayes and Jarvis' holidays have so many customisable elements and customers may require detailed insight about a particular destination or hotel from one of the in-house travel experts.

The new local rate phone number is now live, meaning customers can save on telephone calls as well as holidays. Visit <http://www.hayesandjarvis.co.uk/> to view all of the enticing destinations and hotels, click here
