

Glittering Lights Illuminates the Las Vegas Motor Speedway for the 2013 Holiday Season

Written by Australian Business

LAS VEGAS, Oct. 22, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- Glittering Lights, the beloved holiday drive-through spectacular, will once again illuminate the Las Vegas Motor Speedway nightly from Friday, Nov. 15, 2013 through Sunday, Jan. 5, 2014

. It will feature more than 400 animated, energy-efficient LED lights along a 2.5-mile racetrack.

The attraction is back for its 13th season and its fourth at Las Vegas Motor Speedway. A new element that will debut on Friday, Nov. 29 is the Living Nativity made possible by the branches of the United Methodist Church. Another added attraction will be the Princess Fairy World and back for its second year will be the Avenue of Trees, a dazzling display of Christmas trees that pays tribute to the charities Glittering Lights has supported through Speedway Children's Charity.

Glittering Lights will be open nightly Sunday – Thursday from 5:30 – 9 p.m. and Friday and Saturday from 5:30 –

10 p.m.

the branches of the United Methodist Church."

"This will be our fourth year hosting Glittering Lights and our passion for ensuring that this remains the best holiday experience in our city is stronger than ever," said Chris Powell, president of Las Vegas Motor Speedway. "Not only does this enable us to raise money for children in need here in the community, but this is also the ideal holiday activity for

Las Vegas

Southern Nevada's

families."

A portion of Glittering Lights' proceeds will aid Speedway Children's Charities efforts in funding children's charities throughout Southern Nevada. Goodwill of Southern Nevada is also offering $2 off admission with a donation of gently used items at any of the 30 sites located in

Southern Nevada

or at the gates of Glittering Lights.
