

TREVOSE, Pa., Jan. 23, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- International SOS, the world's leading medical and security services company, the global political and security risk consultancy

Control Risks

, its joint venture partner, and ASIS International's

CSO Roundtable

will host a complimentary webinar on how global organizations can prepare and manage their travelers in the year ahead—a year shaping up to be filled with opportunity and risk at every turn. This is the third session of an informative webinar series hosted by International SOS and CSO Roundtable.

Global Political and Travel Security Risks 2014: Looking Ahead Tuesday, Jan. 28, 2014, 1 - 2 p.m. Eastern

Last year was a busy one when it came to global events. There were security issues in Ukraine,

Bangladesh

and

South Sudan

, as well as attacks at the Westgate Mall in

Kenya

, during the Boston Marathon, and, most recently, in

Russia

as the Winter Games approach. The New Year has not started quietly, with continued security threats in the Central African Republic

, tensions between

Japan

and

China

, as well as other risks. The year 2014 looks to be just as complex as 2013.

International SOS to Host Webinar on 2014's Top Global Political and Travel Security Risks

Written by Australian Business

Security specialists will highlight the global political and travel security risks these issues will present for internationally-minded organizations and look at what may lie ahead in 2014. We will share best practices to help organizations be as resilient as possible during turbulent times and to assist senior security executives as they provide travelers with advice on remaining safe and secure wherever they go.

Our expert panel will look at recent headlines, as well as current and historic data and tie it all together for attendees.

- Pablo Weisz , Regional Security Manager, Americas, International SOS and Control Risks
- Michael Moran , Vice President, Global Risk Analysis, Control Risks
- Peter Piazza , Vice President, Strategic Operations, ASIS International

Who should attend: Anyone who manages or is responsible for employees overseas will benefit from this webinar, including those in the areas of security, medical, human resources, business continuity, risk management, travel, HSE and legal.

Register: Follow this link to register to attend this webinar.

Can't Attend? Follow this link to register.

Learn more about managing the risks of a global workforce at Dialogues on Duty of Care .

SOURCE International SOS

RELATED LINKS <http://www.internationalsos.com>