

Etherios Opens New San Francisco Solution Center in Financial District

Written by Australian Business

MINNETONKA, Minn., Oct. 1, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- Etherios, a division of Digi International (NASDAQ:

DGII

), today announced the opening of a new Solution Center in San Francisco's

Financial District. The new space will help Etherios better serve its growing customer base on the west coast and nationwide.

"Our cloud services and solutions have received an overwhelmingly positive response from our customers and are the driving force behind the rapid growth of Etherios," said Mike Dannenfeldt, senior vice president of Etherios Solutions. "Today, we're excited to continue that expansion with a new

San Francisco

-based presence that will allow us to provide unmatched service and customer satisfaction to our west coast clients."

The Etherios San Francisco solution center will be staffed with highly trained, experienced, and certified consultants with plans for additional future growth. The office is located in the San Francisco Financial District at 50 Fremont Street, suite 2275, San Francisco, CA 94105.

Etherios, a Salesforce.com Platinum Cloud Alliance Partner, was recently named on Connected World's "2014 CW 100 list" and Device Cloud by Etherios™, a machine-to-machine (M2M) platform by Etherios, won "Best Horizontal Implementation" and "Best Vertical Implementation" awards at the Battle of the Platforms during the M2M Evolution conference. The awards also follow Device Cloud's win as TMC's "M2M Evolution Product of the Year" this July.
