

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., Oct. 2, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- T-Systems, a global provider of information and communication technology for multinational corporations and public sector institutions, today announced the appointment of Lily Gulik as its Vice President of System Integrator (SI) Sales for Americas — US, Mexico

, Canada and Brazil

, effective immediately. In this role, Gulik is responsible for the overall sales and growth of T-Systems SI Sales & Industry Leadership units including sales architecture, consulting and major deal management for T-Systems SI solutions focused on Automotive & Manufacturing; Public & Healthcare; Travel, Transport & Logistics; Telco and Utilities.

"By focusing on SI Sales and Industry, Lily will play an integral role in leading, planning and executing strategic growth at T-Systems," said Paul Warrenfelt, T-Systems Senior Vice President Sales Americas. "We welcome Lily to the management team at T-Systems and look forward to leveraging her experience and insight to extend our services to new clients and continue our mission of providing unparalleled IT services to our current customers," Warrenfelt said.

"Every organization needs results, innovation and a dependable partner as an extension of their team," said Lily Gulik, T-Systems' Vice President of System Integrator Sales Americas.

"T-Systems helps clients achieve all of these goals. We like to start the conversation early with clients, and bring our resources for success. Ask yourself, who can I call to help me validate my strategy and improve results? Who can I ask for examples of successful implementations and services? I want T-Systems to be the go-to partner in every region related to technology – CIO advisory services, Business and IT Transformation Services, Enterprise Applications (such as SAP), Big Data, Infrastructure, and Cloud," added Gulik.

"I am excited to join the team at T-Systems in this strategic role, and I'm grateful for the opportunity to work with this tremendous organization. I invite all CIOs to download our white papers (www.t-systemsus.com) and to contact me directly to discuss next steps on their IT modernization journey," said Gulik.

Prior to joining T-Systems, Gulik served in key sales, consulting, solutions marketing and operations leadership roles in notable companies including Dell, CSC, Keane (NTT), Google, DoubleClick, BearingPoint, Teradata, SAP, Oracle, Amoco (BP) and AT&T.

Lily Gulik is an active volunteer Girl Scout Troop leader (www.girlscoutsgcnwi.org) and a member of the DePaul University College of Computing and Digital Media (CMD) Leadership Council (www.depaul.edu), former CASL (Chinese American Services League) Advisory Board Member (www.caslservice.org) and former NAACP (National Association of Asian-Pacific Professionals).

About T-Systems T-Systems is a division of Deutsche Telekom, one of the world's leading integrated telecommunications companies. Drawing on a global infrastructure of data centers and networks, T-Systems operates information and communication technology (ICT) systems for multinational corporations and public sector institutions. T-Systems provides integrated solutions for the networked future of business and society. The company's some 52,700 employees combine industry expertise and ICT innovations to add significant value to customers' core business all over the world. T-Systems generated revenue of nearly $14 billion in the 2012 financial year.

www.t-systemsus.com

SOURCE T-Systems

RELATED LINKS <http://www.t-systemsus.com>