( PRLEAP.COM ) The surgeons and staff of Northwestern Plastic Surgery are pleased to announce the launch of their latest website, located at <http://www.northwesternplasticsurgery.com/>

. The practice has added comprehensive information to their website in an effort to better serve current and prospective Chicago plastic surgery patients.

Among the most notable changes to the website is the addition of procedure information for each of the skin, face, breast and body contouring procedures available at the practice. The newest version of the website offers details about the candidacy, procedure steps, recovery and costs of treatments such as breast augmentation, facelift surgery, liposuction, abdominoplasty and more. This information educates patients about their treatment options so that they can ask the right questions during their plastic surgery consultation, and feel comfortable about pursuing treatment.

Other website additions include an extensive before and after photo gallery where prospective patients can see photos of real patients who have been treated by the surgeons at Northwestern Plastic Surgery. Website visitors can also view biographical information on each of the surgeons at the practice, including their education, training and awards. Finally, patients can visit the website for important pre- and post-operative instructions. The new website serves as an extension of the practice, allowing the staff and surgeons of Northwestern Plastic Surgery to provide excellent patient care and support both in and out of the office.
