Woodside Dental Care, which is located in Ventura, California, recently announced its new launch of an information-rich website geared for patient education. The website provides interactive content on commonly performed dental procedures and the latest dentistry treatments as well as educational presentations on the oral hygiene practices patients should follow.

Not only does this practice provide a comprehensive selection of family, cosmetic, and advanced dental treatments and procedures, but the staff strives to create a welcoming, informative environment where patients can transform their smiles easily and successfully. "Our doctors believe that good dental health care is better for our patients than disease care," states Dr. Maryam Sabet

. "Offering an information-rich website helps us to achieve our goal of delivering educational guidance that can lead to good dental health as well as better overall health for our patients."

Dr. Sabet views the new website as yet one more tool enabling patients to achieve a higher level of oral care. "We believe that good oral health involves more than just a couple of annual visits to the dentist, and we also understand that it is our job to assist our patients in learning as much as they can about available procedures so that they can make informed decisions. The website reflects the level of dedication this team of doctors has to their patients. It is filled with detailed information regarding current procedures, a smile analysis questionnaire, a selection of educational dental videos, patient testimonials, as well as an introductory look at the staff.
