WEST HILLS, Calif., Oct. 14, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- In Los Angeles, health and wellness beauty have always gone hand in hand; residents often understand that natural physical beauty is often a direct result of a healthy, contented lifestyle. While cultural norms for beauty change over time, perhaps the one factor that has remained a constant is a dazzlingly bright smile, like those crafted and maintained by the world-class cosmetic and restorative dentistry experts at West Hills Smiles. The dentist Woodland Hills and Los Angeles residents trust help achieve a stunning and healthy smile and mouth. West Hills Smiles is the local Malibu and Calabasas dentist facility where patients can get celebrity level treatment from Drs. Ben Reyhani and Pasha Hakimzadeh, both expert surgeons and USC School of Dentistry alumni.

Dr. Hakimzadeh is a talented and trusted dentist who has built on the impeccable clinical skills he learned in dental school. His knowledge on the most cutting-edge technology, materials and procedures in the dental field make his services particularly sought after – particularly for performing cosmetic and reconstructive treatments.

Similarly, Dr. Reyhani's dental expertise is heightened by his thirst for knowledge and passion for teaching. He prioritizes the patient experience, making sure that he always goes the extra mile when taking care of his patients, even if it's something behind the scenes they barely notice. For both lead dentists at West Hills Smiles, great pride is taken in knowing that their work is substantially improving both the health, self-confidence and the overall quality of life for each patient.

As we age, the natural effects of aging undoubtedly take a toll on physical appearance.

However, many people are unaware just how much treatable environmental factors play a role – particularly when it comes to dulling what was once a warm and vibrant grin. That's where the restorative dentistry skills of Drs. Hakimzadeh and Pasha truly shine. With treatments like one-visit crowns, inlays and onlays, dental implants and endodontics (root canal therapy), their talents dental professionals assure patients can enjoy an eye-catching smile throughout their lives.

For those seeking a truly substantial restoration or change, a full smile makeover can be performed, in which the West Hills Smiles team utilizes a series of procedure such as veneers, crowns or teeth whitening, among others to create an exquisitely beautiful smile for every patient.

While the need for proper dental hygiene is commonly known today, the importance of cosmetic and restorative dentistry as well in building valuable self-confidence can scarcely be overstated. For individuals in Woodland Hills, Calabasas and throughout Los Angeles, Drs. Pasha and Hakimzadeh are eager to assist in providing dental treatment that keeps you happy, healthy and proud of your smile.
