

Dr Zizmor to Offer New Fraxel Laser Skin Resurfacing Technology

Written by Australian Business

(PRLEAP.COM) Dr. Jonathan Zizmor , a top NYC dermatologist and skin care expert, recently introduced non-invasive Fraxel laser treatment to his New York City dermatology practice. "Clinical trials have shown Fraxel to be effective on any skin type and skin color and it can be an excellent option for patients who want to reduce signs of aging and look younger without expensive plastic surgery," says

Fraxel is designed to enhance skin tone and remove signs of aging, such as wrinkles and fine lines. It can also reduce or eliminate freckles, age spots, acne scars and other skin damage. The Fraxel laser utilizes "fractional photothermolysis"-a technology in which thousands of microscopic laser beams treat a small part of the skin without affecting the surrounding areas. Because Fraxel is targeted and does not damage surrounding skin – the healing time is faster. The laser light stimulates the production of younger, smoother, healthier skin to replace damaged tissue.

"Fraxel is one of the most affordable and effective skin care innovations available for treating fine lines and wrinkles, scarring, age spots, sun damage and Actinic Keratosis," explains Dr. Zizmor

, "we are privileged to be one of a select number of locations in New York City where Fraxel laser treatment is available to patients."
