( PRLEAP.COM ) Kelowna, BC, Canada – Valiant Recovery, a leading alcohol abuse treatment center in British Columbia, understands that the cost of rehabilitation treatment should not prevent someone from getting the help they need for their addiction. To ensure that patients and their families can afford the highest level of drug or alcohol rehabilitation care, Valiant Recovery now offers financing options to cover the cost of care.

"Drug and alcohol addiction is among the most challenging physical and mental conditions people can face. Recovery is truly dependent on the individual, but the right rehabilitation facility offering superior care and concealing is also very important," said Royce Dockrill, CEO of Valiant Recovery. "We believe that people suffering from addiction and their families should not have to choose between an affordable rehabilitation program and an effective rehabilitation program. With the new financing option, the proven Valiant Recovery approach to dealing with addiction is now available to many more patients."

The Valiant Recovery treatment programs can be financed for as low as $325 a month and includes a full treatment program, private counseling sessions, home cooked meals, comfortable housing and the support of an experienced and professional staff dedicated to patients' recovery.

Patients can also benefit from Valiant Recovery's holistic approach to recovery. The holistic approach looks at the body as a whole and aims to address all aspects that drive addiction – spiritual, physical and mental, to overcome alcoholism. Art, equine therapy, physical fitness, anger management, spiritual counseling, stress management, and many other programs allow patients to heal and recover completely, so that alcohol or other control substances are no longer needed or desired.
