) Father and son family dentists, Drs. Russell Jr. and Russell, III are utilizing the website to educate the community about dental health. The website incorporates modern media such as dental videos and a blog to address common concerns on topics ranging from oral hygiene to difficult dental procedures.

"I am hoping that my web presence is able to meet patients or information seekers where they are at—online," says Dr. Russell, III. "If they are up at midnight looking for dental implant explanations, I want to have accurate information out there they can find what they're looking for and make the best decision for their oral health."

The website also possesses attributes such as patient testimonials and reviews, an online appointment request form and procedure explanations. The intent of these features is to help patients make informed decisions about their oral health. Current and prospective patients now have access to the dentist's biographies, helpful dental links and easy access to patient forms. Some of the services offered by Drs. Russell and Russell are:

"Our staff is very friendly and our family has a deep history of helping the people of the Annapolis area. I hope our deep care for the community is reflected in our website."

About the dentists:

The Russell Family roots in Annapolis run deep. The Russell's beginnings in health care can be traced back to 1909 when Dr. John T. Russell finished medical school and began making house calls in Eastport and later served on the first staff of Anne Arundel Medical Center. J Russell's two sons, Carl P. Russell and Oneal F. Russell Sr. both attended the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery and both of their sons, John Russell and current practicing dentist Oneal F. Russell, Jr. followed in their father's footsteps and also attended Dental School graduating in 1968 and 1975, respectively. With a desire to continue the family tradition Dr. Oneal Russell, III graduated from University of Maryland Dental School in 2006 and then completed a residency at the Baltimore V.A. Hospital where he served as Chief Resident before returning to Annapolis where he practices today with his father, Dr. Oneal Russell Jr. To learn more about their family and cosmetic dentistry practice, check out their website at ofrdds.com.
