: --On Saturday, May 3rd 2014, the Power of Trust and Knowing showcases at The Inn at Brookville Farms, in Brookville, Maryland. It will be an interactive event that will help you uncover the power of your own trust and knowing.

Speakers Al Diaz, Terrie Christine, and Maira Arnaudo engage the crowd to tune into their cellular knowing and shift self-doubt into a power positive energy. Internationally acclaimed, with backgrounds ranging in Intuitive Healing, Inventing and hosting an online radio show, this group provides a collection of knowledge that can help any individual overcome the hidden barriers holding them back. For one day they will be motivating the crowd in Brookeville, Maryland, and streaming live online for those not able to physically attend.

On the importance of transforming ones mindset, International Keynote speaker and Transformational Guide, Al Diaz said, "Many people let their lives run them instead of the other way around. It's so easy to let the activities of everyday life take over and soon you feel like this is it. We're here to remind you that it is not! Your full potential sits waiting within, all you need is the power of trust and knowing to shed the old thinking and emerge a new YOU!" Al has been awarded on LinkedIn as one of the top 1% most endorsed in the United States for Public Speaking.

The three speakers come from various backgrounds giving a powerful insight to transformation:

Al Diaz is a visionary and Transformational Guide. As an international Keynote speaker, author, film producer and online radio host, he guides others to remember the gift, value and purpose they bring to the world and their own life. Terrie Christine is an Intuitive Healer and Medium specializing in clearing energy blocks. Terrie helps people access love, abundance and peace by utilizing her "Super Powers" and clearing old energetic blocks that hold them back. Maira Arnaudo is a scientist, inventor, and creator of the Love Scent. In teaching people to tune in to their cellular knowing, she guides individuals to remember, embrace and BE the greatest expression of their selves. The Power of Trust and Knowing is a collective group based across the nation. Assembled in 2013, they are hosting the first in a series of Power of Trust and Knowing events at The Inn at Brookville Farms in Brookville, Maryland on May 3rd, 2014.
